

DELAWARE BIRD RECORDS COMMITTEE

Delaware State List of Bird Species and the Delaware Review List

The Delaware State List of Bird Species contains the following 417 species of birds that have been accepted for Delaware by the Delaware Bird Records Committee (DBRC) as of September 1, 2015. We request documentation for the 90 boldfaced species as they constitute the Delaware Review List. New species added to the list recently include three species that have become rare over the past few decades: Black Rail, Brewer's Blackbird and Evening Grosbeak. Additionally, the committee is now considering Thayer's Gulls records. Thayer's Gull records that were previously archived will now be reviewed.

Species denoted with an asterisk (*) are birds that should be documented regardless of the Delaware location from which they are observed. Species denoted by "†" are birds that are on the Delaware Review List under certain circumstances. Four are pelagic species that are only reviewable when seen from shore and the Eurasian Collared-Dove that is only reviewable when seen outside of Selbyville. Please note the subspecies of common local species and the reports that are presently being reviewed by the Committee in the Addendum. All of these and any other species not on the list currently require documentation.

Reports should be sent to either:

Addendum

Subspecies: The Committee has begun reviews of extralimital subspecies that can be positively identified in the field. All reports of the following subspecies that have been noted in Delaware previously should be submitted to the Committee Secretary:

*Black Brant	Branta hrota nigricans
*Great White Heron	Ardea herodias occidentalis
*Eurasian Whimbrel	Numenius phaeopus spp.
*Audubon's Warbler	Dendroica coronata auduboni
*Oregon Junco	Junco hyemalis oregonus

Additionally, records of well-marked subspecies that have not been previously reported from Delaware, such as Red-shafted Flicker, races of Dark-eyed Junco other than Slate-colored, and European forms of North American species including Tundra Swan, Brant, and White-winged Scoter, should be submitted for review. We no longer review Green-winged 'Common' Teal, Anas crecca crecca.

The following species and subspecies are under review by the Committee (documentation is requested for all of these species):

"Gray-bellied" Brant	Branta bernicla (unnamed)
Trumpeter Swan	Cygnus buccinator
Yellow-legged Gull	Larus cachinnans
Anna's Hummingbird	Calypte anna
European Greenfinch	Carduelis chloris
